ARGONAUTIKA

THE VOYAGE OF JASON AND THE ARGONAUTS

Written and directed by Mary Zimmerman
 After Apollonius of Rhodes and Gaius Valerius Flaccus
 Translations by Peter Green and David R. Slavitt

GET TICKETS

With dazzling theatrics and fantastical storytelling, Argonautika recounts Jason's perilous quest to capture the Golden Fleece. With goddesses at their side, Jason and his crew encounter monsters, nymphs, demons and other astonishing obstacles. Heroes are made and destroyed, and promises made in the name of love are broken.

Ages 14 and up. Contains mythological shenanigans and brief salty sailor talk.

Auteur director Mary Zimmerman, a longtime member of the Lookingglass Theatre Company, returns to McCarter after her celebrated productions of The Odyssey and The Secret in the Wings. Winner of the 2002 Tony Award for her direction of Metamorphoses on Broadway and recipient of the prestigious MacArthur Fellowship, Zimmerman, whose acclaimed works also include The Arabian Nights and The Notebooks of Leonardo DaVinci, is considered to be among the most creative and talented directors working today.

Produced in association with Berkeley Repertory Theatre and Shakespeare Theatre Company and Lookingglass Theatre Company

EMILY'S NOTE

Dear Patrons,
As a child, I adored reading old fairy tales and ancient Greek myths. I gobbled them up-- breakfast, lunch and dinner. I read and re-read the stories of heroes and monsters, gods and goddesses.

PLEASE NOTE

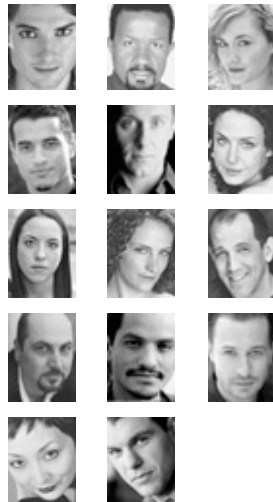

AGES 14 AND UP. SOME ADULT LANGUAGE AND CONTENT.
